

MODEL SCHEDULE

PH.D. IN CULTURAL HERITAGE STUDIES AND APPLIED ANTHROPOLOGY

STARTING WITH MA DEGREE(30 cr past MA, 60 cr total)

Year 1: Autumn Semester (minimum 9cr)

- Meet with advisor to develop graduate contract
- **Select additional faculty to form Ph.D. committee
- Take ANTY 600
- *Take an ANTY graduate seminar
- @Take remedial or elective classes

Year 1: Spring Semester (minimum 9cr)

- Take ANTY 601
- Take ANTY 602
- @Take remedial or elective classes
- Develop Dissertation Proposal
- **Form dissertation committee
- Pass comprehensive evaluation administered by dissertation committee

Year 2: Autumn Semester (minimum 6cr)

- Take ANTY 699: Dissertation (3cr)
- Do dissertation research
- @Take elective classes
- ***$ File Application for Graduation

Year 2: Spring Semester (minimum 6cr)

- Take ANTH 699 (6cr)
- Write Dissertation
- Defend Dissertation
- ***$ File final draft of dissertation with Graduate School

NOTES

- * A graduate seminar is any ANTH class numbered between 500 and 589, 595, or 600-694.
- ** Ph.D. Committee is normally three UM anthropology faculty. Dissertation committee is five UM faculty, one of whom is from a department other than anthropology. In all cases the Chair of a Ph.D. or dissertation committee must be a UM anthropology faculty member. Give your selections to the Anthropology Administrative Assistant, who will forward them to the Grad School.
- *** This procedure requires submission of a form to the Graduate School. This procedure will have a deadline each semester. Please check the current course schedule or contact the Graduate School to find out about these deadlines.
- @ Remedial classes: one class in each of the four subfields (archaeology, linguistics, physical, socio-cultural) and a class in statistics are required prior to graduation if not taken during your undergraduate career. Your advisor may assign other remedial classes if your undergraduate career did not include classes that he/she was expecting you to have taken.
- $ This form requires a fee to be paid to the Graduate School. Be sure to save your receipt.